POSITANO

Mike and Stephanie

Positano, the pearl of the Amalfi Coast, is one of the most romantic and charming places in the world, ideal for an unforgettable elopement. With its colourful houses overlooking the crystal clear sea, picturesque streets and timeless atmosphere, this corner of Italy is the perfect backdrop for an elopement. If you are planning to celebrate your wedding in an exclusive and magical location, an elopement in Positano could be the perfect choice.

Why Did Mike and Stephanie Choose Positano?

Always fascinated by the beauty of Italy, Mike and Stephanie were looking for a place that embodied elegance, history and romance. Positano, with its pastel-coloured houses, enchanting beaches and crystal clear sea, immediately became the perfect choice for their elopement. For them, it was important to find a place that offered intimacy and at the same time natural beauty that would make their special day unforgettable. And what better location than the Amalfi

Positano as the Backdrop of a Fairytale

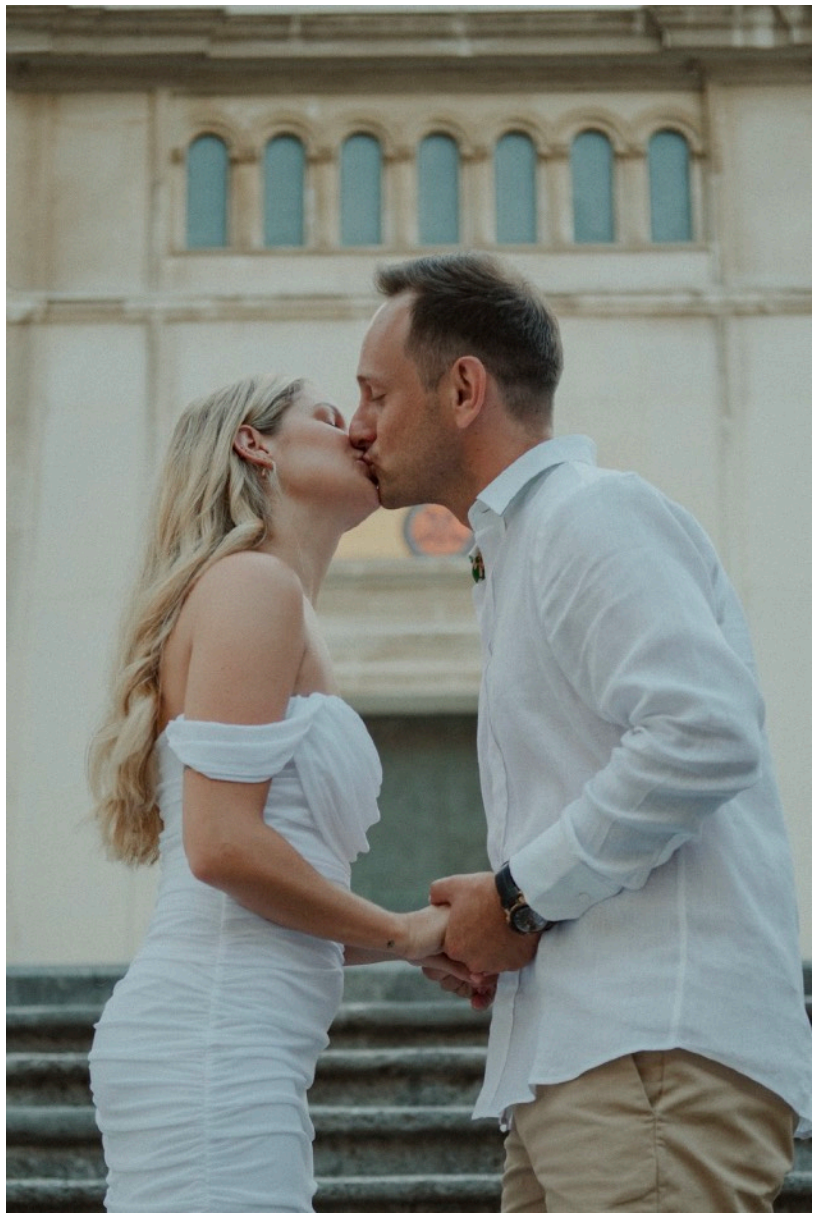

Mike and Stephanie's day started in a luxurious villa called ‘La dolce vita’ with a panoramic view of the beautiful sea.

Stephanie, wrapped in a light and refined dress, got ready surrounded by the unique charm of Positano, while Mike waited for her over a good Neapolitan coffee, enjoying the relaxed atmosphere. The photographers captured every detail, from the sparkle in the bride and groom's eyes to the reflections of the Mediterranean light. The photos, with an editorial style, told every moment, enhancing the natural beauty and emotion of the moment.

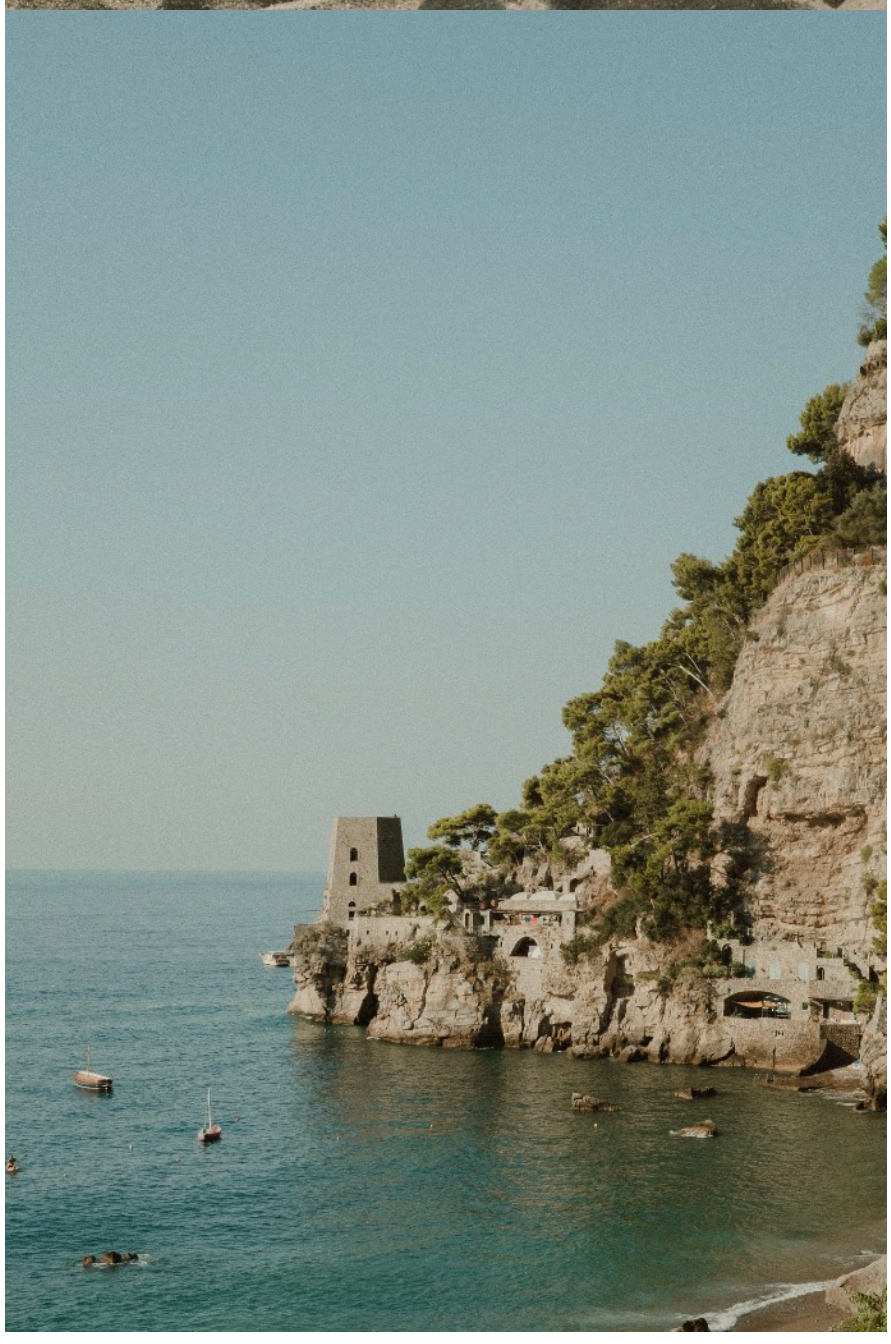

Mike and Stephanie’s

chose to wake up early to capture the magical atmosphere of sunrise on the beach. The sun was just rising, tinging the sky in soft shades of pink and orange, while the beach was completely deserted, creating an intimate and serene atmosphere.

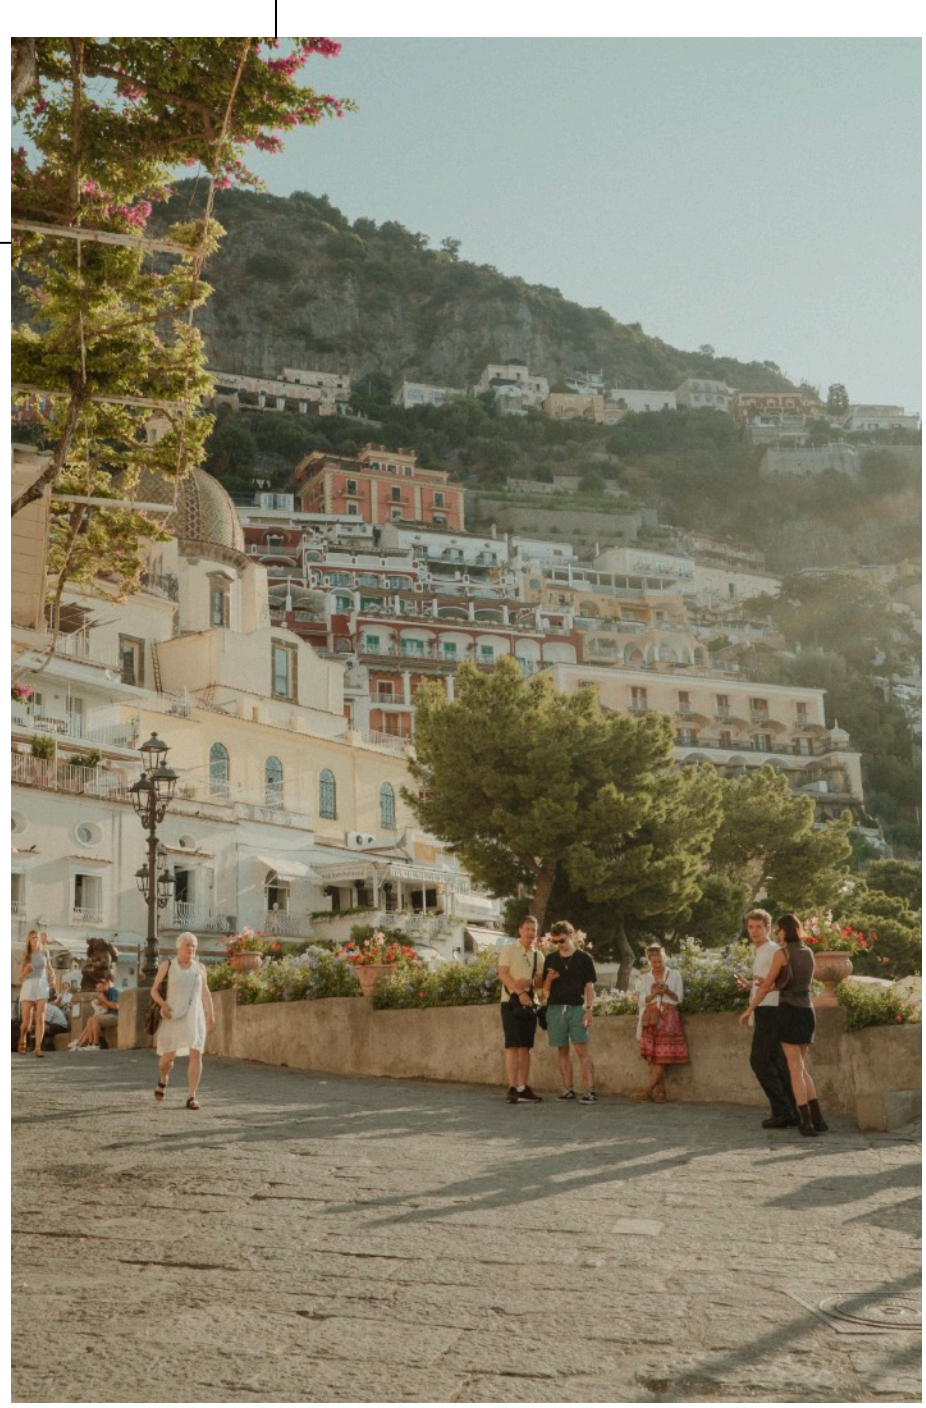

With the calm sea and the early morning light gently caressing the shoreline, Stephanie and Mike indulged in spontaneous moments, walking hand in hand along the shore. Stephanie, wrapped in her light dress, and Mike, wearing a casual but refined look, had fun chasing each other on the sand, as the light waves washed their feet.

The shots captured at dawn were extraordinarily evocative: the soft golden light with a touch of flash to make the photographs more beautiful gave them an ethereal look, enhancing the complicity and love of the couple. Every moment seemed suspended in time, with the silence of the beach interrupted only by the sound of the waves. Positano's colourful houses were reflected in the calm sea, creating a perfect backdrop for photos that looked painted.

POSITANO JET

80s-style photo post-production with editorial flash is perfect for couples who want a bold, retro style for their photos. This approach recalls the vibrant and glamorous aesthetic of the 1980s, characterised by saturated colours, strong contrasts and the skilful use of flash to create images with a glossy look. Ideal for couples shoots, engagements and weddings, this technique blends a nostalgic effect with a contemporary, high-fashion feel, turning every shot into a cover photo.
