
Dolce vita on Lake Garda
Editorial Wedding & Lifestyle Photography in Italy
Josie and Michael

Lake Garda offers a unique setting for editorial photography in Italy, where natural light, historic architecture and timeless landscapes come together to create an authentic visual narrative.

This iconic location strikes the perfect balance between elegance and spontaneity, making it ideal for high-end lifestyle and wedding shoots.

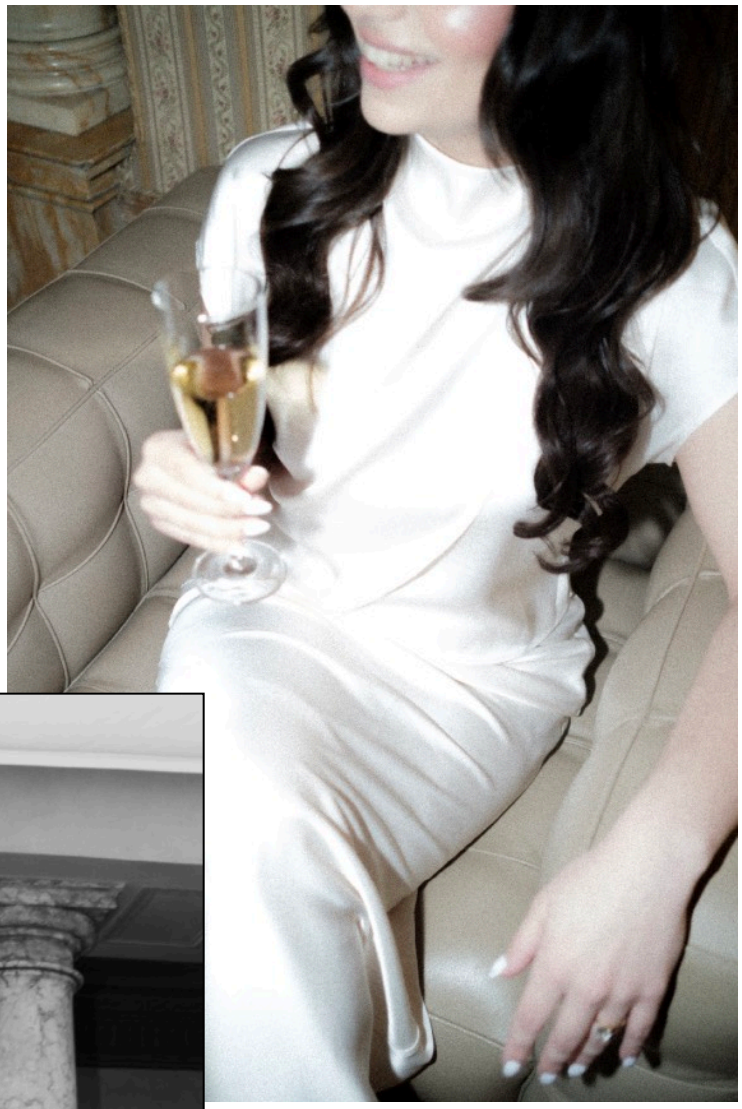

Style and clothing inspired by La Dolce Vita

The selected outfits evoke the aesthetic of the Italian Dolce Vita, with soft lines, lightweight fabrics and natural colour palettes.
Every element is designed to enhance movement and light, helping to create refined and timeless editorial images, perfect for a luxury wedding or lifestyle setting.

Authentic Storytelling

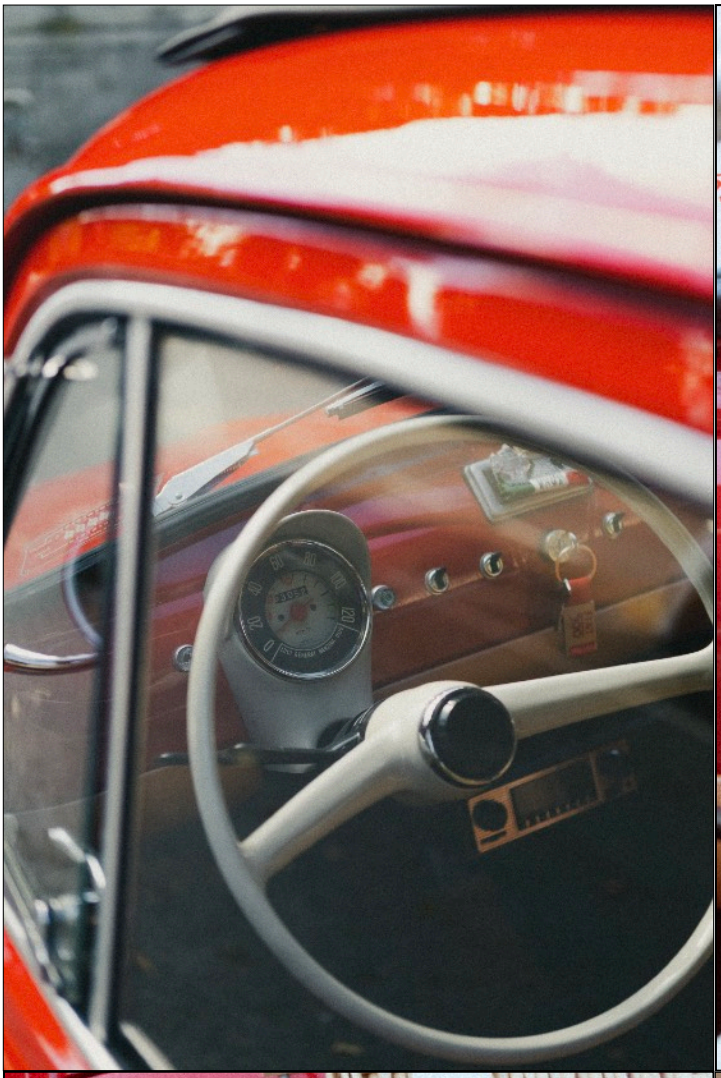

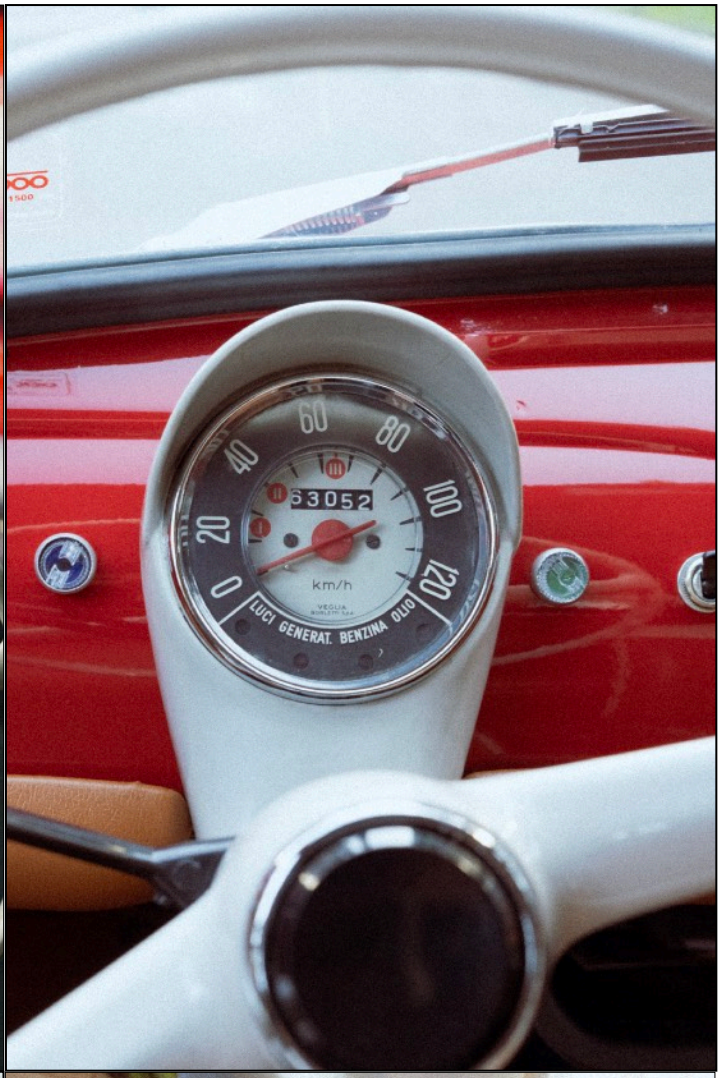

Through Natural Moments

Every shot stems from a discreet, observational approach, where moments unfold naturally. This style of photography allows me to capture genuine emotions, creating an intimate, cinematic visual narrative that resonates with modern couples seeking authenticity and depth.

A tribute to the timeless elegance of 1960s Italy, reinterpreted on the shores of Lake Garda

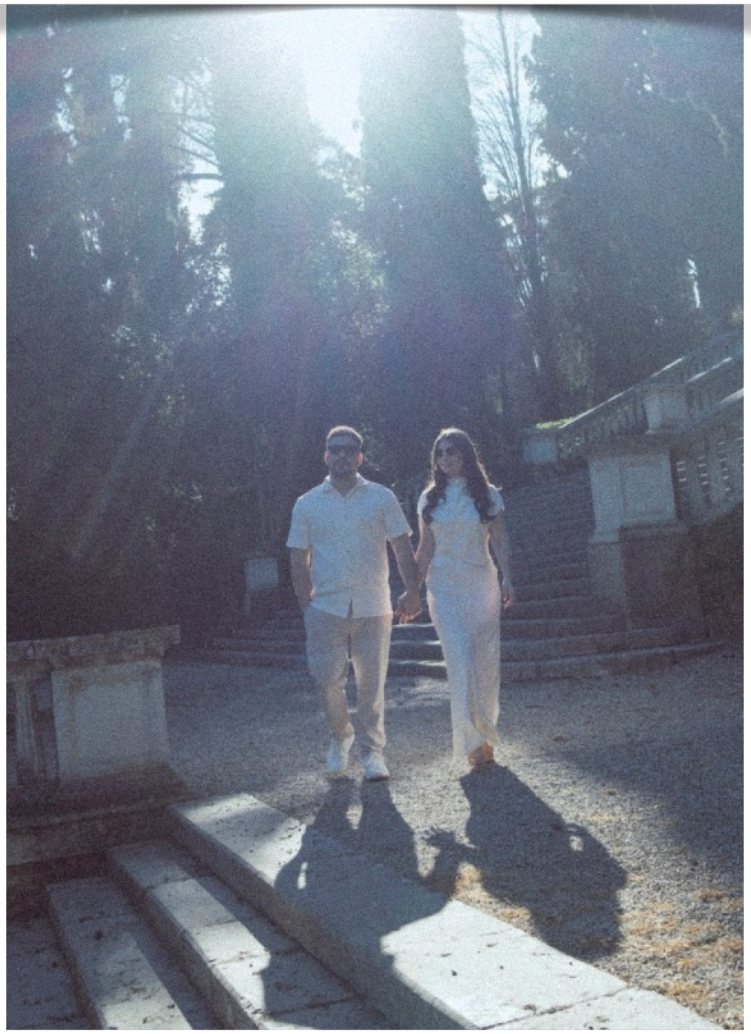

Immersed in the pure light of Lake Garda, this editorial photoshoot celebrates the most refined essence of La Dolce Vita. Set against historic villas, lush gardens, and the crystal-clear waters of Italy's largest lake, the images portray a timeless aesthetic: fluid garments, elegant silhouettes, and moments of pure Italian joie de vivre. Inspired by the glamour of the 1960s, the project blends contemporary fashion with retro atmosphere, employing natural light and flash to achieve the precise control characteristic of high-end editorial work. Iconic locations such as Sirmione, Gardone Riviera, and the morainic hills provide the perfect setting for a clean and sophisticated style.

Each shot reflects the art of living well through impeccable technique: controlled contrast, sharp detail, and faithful color rendering. This editorial is more than a fashion shoot it is a statement of style: La Dolce Vita is not a bygone era, but a state of mind that continues to thrive on the shores of Lake Garda.
